MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 19

A GERMAN VIEW. -Dr. Theodore Christlieb. the German "evangelical," whose sweetness and light so took captive the rest of the evangelicals at the alliance meeting in New York some years ago, has found a serious blot upon our civilization in the great republic. As Col. Higginson tells the story in the Woman's Journal, Professor Christlieb confided to a recent The subscriber has now on hand one of the largest and best selected stocks of goods in his line ever offered in this market, which he can afford to sell at prices to suit the times. He American visitor that he had great fears for the future of our nation because "the spirit of Christ" was not here. Pressed to explain his meaning, he did not cite any of those financial or social scandals that make us uneasy, but "seriously declared that on more than one occasion LADIES, GENTS', MISSES' BOYS AND CHILDREN'S riously declared that on more than one occasion he had heard an American married woman say to her husband, 'Dear, will you bring me my shawl?' and the husband had brought it!' and further, that he had seen a man come home and find his wife sitting in the best chair in the parlor, and not only did she not rise to get his dressing gown and slippers, but she did not rise at all, and let him find his own chair as well as other comforts. These were the things that this profound professor, named after the "love of Christ." found to evidence a dangerous lack of of fine and coarse work, of superior quality to any ever before offered for sale in this market, manufactured from the best material, and in the most durable and stylish manner, comprising a Christ," found to evidence a dangerous lack of that article in the United States. It is hard to overestimate the value of this well-weighed criticism from so eminent a source, based, as it is, on undeniable facts. The female woman in this country has unquestionably arrived at a degree of individualism which places her in many things on a level with man. She cannot be de-pended upon to get out of bed at 4 o'clock of a winter morning to make a fire and get break-fast, while her lord and master takes a beauty nap, with anything like the certainty that she once could. She won't eat up the chicken's gizzard while there is any breast left—no, nor afterward, either. She objects to fill her husband's pipe and "start" it with a few gentle puff's, as any professor's spouse ought to. She opens her husband's letters on the same ground that he opens her's. A man has no right here to whip his wife, or to harness her to a plow, as the German farmers do. In fact, it is getting so in our country that a wife has almost as many rights as a husband, and the conviction is slowly gaining ground that marriage is a matter of mutual service and attention. We owe Professor Christlieb something for bring ing this to our notice. He may have stopped us on the brink of a precipice, as it were,— Springfield Republican.

An Affectionate Goose.—The visitor to the Public Gardens during the summer must I have received and shall continue to keep on have noticed the eccentric conduct of one of the wild geese that frequent the pond in the northern gardens. Whenever a certain old gentleman, whose name we do not know, approaches the pond and calls "Bobby," the goose will leave the pond and sit beside him, and when he leaves to go home will follow close at his feet like a dog to the gate, and sometimes into which I am desirous to dispose of in large or Persons in the city can arrange with the drivers, or leave their orders at Brengle's, Appich's or Schafer's confectionery store. the street, when it has to be forcibly put back, the street, when it has to be forcibly put back, to its manifest disgust, for it goes off to its native element twisting its tail with indignation, and giving vent to sundry discordant hisses. The old gentleman says he has never fed it, or petted it in any way, which makes it the more remarkable, but we were told by a frequenter of the gardens that about or three years ago a man used to come there and feed this identical A full supply of

SMALL TALK.—Never abuse small talk; no-body does unless he be a stranger to its conven-PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.—
As the season for Coughs and Colds is again upon us, we would call attention to the above very vauable preparation. It is now five years since we first introduced this medicine to our trade and during all that time it has met with constantly increasing popularity. Put up in bottles at $1.00 and 50 cents each respectively. The trade supplied at proprietor's rates.

JANNEY & CO.,
oct 16 Druggists, Nos. 79 and 145 King st. iences. Small talk is the small change of life; there is no getting on without it. There are times when 'tis folly to be wise; when a little nonsense is very palatable, and when gravity and sedateness ought to be kicked down stairs. and sedateness ought to be kicked down stairs. A philosopher cuts a poor figure in the ball-room unless he leaves his wisdom at home. Metaphysics is as intrusive in the midst of agreeable prattle as a death's head on a festal board. We have met with men who were too lofty for small talk. They would never condescend to play with a ribbon or flirt a fan. They were above such trifling; in other words, they were above making themselves agreeable, above pleasing, and above being pleased. They were all wisdom, all gravity, and all tediousness, which they bestowed upon company with more than Dogberry's generosity. A man who can-VOLFF'S ACME BLACKING-Its lustre and blackness of color is unrivalled by any other blacking. It is more protection to the leather than oils, because its use will shield the leather against the continual changes from wet to dry. It is absolutely waterproof, requires no brushing to become glossy, and retains its polish for several weeks through rain, slush or snow. It is suitable alike for men's boots or ladies' and childrens' shoes. For sale by oct 20 WARFIELD & HALL. than Dogberry's generosity. A man who can-not talk has no more business in society than a statue. The world is made up of trifles; and he who can trifle elegantly and gracefully is a valuable acquisition to mankind. He is a Co-rinthian column in the fabric of society.
